

Matt Berry BS RT(R)(CT) Publishes Article in “Radiologic Technology” Journal

Past board member and current Webmaster, Matt Berry, publishes third article for the ASRT “Radiologic Technology” Journal. His current article, “Elbow Disorders and Injuries” was published in the July/August edition of the ASRT’s Journal “Radiologic Technology”. This is a wonderfully written article with lots of good information. It includes elbow images taken at several facilities across the state, and it’s a directed reading article worth 2.5 CE’s.

Current ASRT Members can find the article here :
