

ASRT Foundation

The ASRT Foundation is the leading supporter for charitable funding for medical imaging technologists as well as radiation therapists.

The foundation has opportunities for technologists to grow their knowledge and help to provide proper patient care and safety. There are many scholarships and grants that are offered by the foundation for each technologist who applies and qualifies.

There are also many opportunities to give back to the ASRT Foundation.

For more information please visit the ASRT's Foundation website.
